

Withdrawal from the Case.

The Committee appointed to act as attorneys in fact for the Frankel creditors, held a meeting today and after discussing the pro's and con's of the situation, concluded to withdraw from the prosecution of the Frankel case. The action was expressive of the wish of many creditors, and was taken on these grounds: The State pays an attorney to do that work, and with the precedent of the former trial before him, he is amply able to conduct the prosecution and rectify whatever errors of judgment have been made; it is costing the creditors a great deal of good money which they do not think conditions make it wise to continue—they in fact consider it an abuse of their power to do so. Many of the creditors are poor men and they say: "One man has an interest in $1,000 and I have an interest in $10,000—it costs me $10 to his $1 and I can't pay it; I am not richer than he, though I might get more, if we got anything by it."—Virginia Report.

No More Wells-Fargo Franks.

The "franking privilege" is about to be abolished by the Wells-Fargo Company.

About thirty people in this city have for some years past been allowed to receive and send their truck by Wells Fargo free of charge. Under the Inter-State Commerce law the company will have to pay higher and they have cancelled the free list. The C. P. R. R. has called in all free passes. The rate will be lower and everybody will have to pay. A good idea.

A story is going the rounds that Mr. Blaine and Mr. Sherman have come to an understanding upon the subject of Presidential aspirations, the basis of the understanding is that in the event Cleveland is nominated, Mr. Blaine is to be given an opportunity to try conclusions with him before the people but if Mr. Cleveland should not be a candidate and Gov. Hill is the Democratic choice, Mr. Blaine is to give over his aspirations in favor of Mr. Sherman.

Who is It?

A London correspondent of the New York World says that a member of the British Parliament has become enamored of a wealthy woman from Nevada, and proposes to divorce his wife and wed his new love. What part of Nevada she hails from the letter does not state.

—Ex-Assemblyman Springmeyer was in the city yesterday. He says that the report of a man named Anderson being pressed up in a hay bale and sent to Bill Mooney is all humbug. Anderson is working on his ranch, alive and well. Mr. Springmeyer has been requested to call at the office and produce Anderson, that there can be no mistake.

—Mrs. Potter Brown telegraphs from London to the New York Herald, that she never said that she was going on the stage to elevate it. Who the devil cares whether she elevates it or not, or whether she said she did or didn't? Her principal business now seems to be elevating her advertising range by free telegraphing.

—Two "ladies" who called at the Vatican recently to get the Pope's blessing, got into a row as to who should head the procession, and had a hair pulling match. A big Swiss guard put the fighting women out, and an attendant swept up the hair. They will fix up and try it again.

—A good deal of fuss is being made over the "hypothetical question" in the Goldenson trial, and yesterday the APPEAL received a communication asking what a hypothetical question was. A hypothetical question is one like this: "Suppose your aunt was your uncle?"

—The Journal says the premium list and programme for the next State Fair will be increased from twenty-five to fifty per cent. over last year.

—China and Japan buy our dried apples freely. Thus does American industry help to swell the population of the Orient.—Times Review.

—The State University is closed for the term.
